

Code of Hammurabi

by sawan ahmed

Code

law 14 if a man steals a child he shall be put to death

code

22. If a man commits robbery and is caught they shall be put to death

Code

195. If a son has struck his father, his hands shall be cut off.

summary

I think that laws were harsh because to make sure everyone obeyed him so the would have disciplined . Another reason is because he didn't want bad people running around killing people , so by enforcing these rules they will know that they don't want to die . That will make them say i won't do this . that is why I think hammurabi's laws were harsh.
