SEL for Parents

"Discipline is an important part of guiding children to become successful adults. How we discipline lays the foundation for effective communication and healthy development. But it can also be a source of disagreement and discontent. It's not easy. But it's possible. And it all starts with building a comprehensive approach that makes use of effective strategies. The kind known to support teens towards learning important lessons. Lessons they will take along with them as they become parents later in life, shaping the next generation."
